

Survey for Educators Using Human Rights Dialogue in the Classroom

To access Dialogue Online, please visit www.carnegiecouncil.org/dialogue

Name:

Email:

Position:

Phone:

Department:

Mailing Address:

University:

For what course/s are you using Human Rights Dialogue?

Which issue(s) of Dialogue are you using?

Describe how you used Human Rights Dialogue in the classroom. For example, did you assign one article or a whole issue? Did you use the articles as required reading or as recommended reading?

Describe how you and your students reacted to the articles in Dialogue. Did you find there was enough background material to understand the issues presented by the authors and their significance?

The latest issue of Dialogue was divided into four separate themes. Did you find this organization helpful? Were the commentary essays helpful?

Did you or your students use any of our on-line resources? Did you find them helpful? What other on-line features would you be interested in seeing supplement future issues of Dialogue?

Would you be interested in having your class participate in an on-line discussion board to discuss the topics covered in Human Rights Dialogue?

Would you be interested in a space in Dialogue On-line where students could post essays written in response to topics covered in Human Rights Dialogue?

We welcome any additional comments or suggestions for Human Rights Dialogue you may have.

Please return to Human Rights Dialogue
By mail: 170 East 64th Street, New York, NY 10021
By email: dialogue@cceia.org
By fax: (212) 752-2432